Homework Policy

Homework at Cleverland School

Communication and shared family experiences are of primary importance to children's learning and self-confidence. This creates a partnership between the school and home. Teachers, Parents and Learners each have responsibilities.

We believe that homework is important to:-

- ❖ Make learners busy at all times
- ❖ Promote a spirit of Research and group work
- ❖ Practice skills taught in the classroom
- ❖ Develop responsibility
- ❖ Involve parents in the learning process

Parents are encouraged to take an active interest in homework and to assist when and where necessary.

Note: Homework, if approached correctly by your child, will not interfere unreasonably on leisure activities.
